Collection Guide: Alfred Caldwell

Overview

Alfred Caldwell (1903–1998) was an alumnus of Illinois Institute of Technology (Chicago), a faculty member in the Architecture, Planning and Design department (predecessor of IIT’s College of Architecture), and IIT’s landscape designer. As a student of Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, Caldwell received two academic degrees from IIT – a Bachelor of Architecture in 1942 and an M.S. in City Planning in 1947. He was also awarded an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters & Science degree by IIT in 1988. In 1982 he was presented with the Alumni Association’s Professional Achievement Award. As a faculty member, he served as Professor of Architecture from 1945–1960 and from 1981–1998 (as Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Professor of Architecture).
