Students mugged

On January 21 at 8:40 in the evening, Ron Koronkowski, a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, was in the fraternity parking lot. Two black males approached him and put a 22 caliber pistol to the back of his head. After robbing him, they fled. Steve Lid, another fraternity member, chased them. When they realized they were being pursued, they began running at Lid. Lid gave up the chase and was not injured. That same week, a police officer was found shot and killed near 28th Street. It is believed that the two who robbed Koronkowski were also involved in the shooting.

On February 12 at 7:30 PM two black males approached another member of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity in the parking lot and stole their watches and wallets. After the assault, the two into a car, they approached another member of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity who was working on his car. They put a gun to his head and demanded his watch and wallet. He gave them his watch and wallet, but the gun to his head claimed that he "wasn't fast enough" and struck him on the side of his face. After he was down, they kicked him and threatened to kill him. Fortunately, they did not carry out the threat, but fled on foot. The victim, John Schneider, was not seriously injured.

Tony Marchese, also of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, said that better security is needed in the lot. "Although the lot is the nearest lot on campus to 35th Street, and the lot most used by students, it is only about one of the safest parking lots on campus. There are fewer cars there than on other lots and there is no fence around the lot."

Canopy update

On December twelfth of last year ATS sent a delegation of six concerned students to talk to President Martin about students' concern over the cost and controversy of tearing down the Galvin Library Canopy. September eleventh, 1985, it hit the front page of the Chicago Tribune. The multi-colored canopy along with its creator, Robert Nevel of Mayers/Johnson Architectural Firm. This and other national papers carried articles of the bizarre events leading up to this fiasco. Also printed were various figures from one to three hundred thousand dollars reported to be the cost to ITT for installing and removing the canopy.

ITT students were left without any tell a clear explanation from ITT Administration. It was proposed and passed unanimously in the ATS that a letter be written asking President Nevel for an explanation. As a result of this letter, Dr. Martin agreed to meet with the ATS representatives to discuss the issue. At the meeting were President Martin, Director of Physical Resources Dave Menkenbacher, and Dean James Vick. From ATS: James Kinzie, Diane Reidy. Tom continued on page 7

Students opinions about IIT

A one page survey was mailed out October 6th, to 2154 full-time students who were currently enrolled. The majority of the 399 students who responded were females and all students living in their own apartments off-campus. The scale was from 1-5 with 1 being the least favorable, 5 being the most favorable.

The results from the question on academic and professional preparation (starting with question 9) are listed here:

- How effective are you being prepared for your career? The average answered 3/5.
- How well do you think you are prepared for your career? The average answered 3.5.

Approximately 40% of the students responded with a 4 for this question.

How often have you seen your academic advisor since January, 1985? The average was 2.4.

On part II, Campus Environment and Services, there were these responses to the questions:

- Are you making or have you made good friends at IIT? 50% of the students said yes (5) with the average being 4.5.
- In response to the question, "Do you worry about your personal security on campus?" 29.6% of the students were very worried and 20.8% said no.
- 33.5% gave no response to the question of whether there were any offices, faculty or staff that have been especially helpful, while 65.3% named persons who were helpful and 8% gave detailed comments.

The final question, "Are you satisfied with the facilities and services whose behavior or procedures especially need improvement? 38.8% gave no response, 37.1% named persons who they felt needed improvement and 12% gave detailed comments.

The results from the 399 responding 17% were freshmen, 29.9% sophomores, 24.9% juniors, and 32.0% seniors.

President Martin, Vice President Studen along with Dean Vick have read all of the comments and would like to assure students that all responses whether favorable or unfavorable will be back to the necessary faculty.

IIT students have already made a difference by responding to this survey. The survey underscores the importance of addressing these facts. For the security of our campus, seven new police officers have been added and to ensure students that the preparation for their careers here at IIT is very important, Dean Vick has recommended for future surveys the interviewing of students.

College bowl regionals

by George Jawny

The regional competition of the College Bowl was held Friday, February 21 and Saturday, February 22. The College Bowl is a trivia contest which has become a popular and prestigious tradition on American college campuses over the past 30 years. The regionals were held at Beloit College in Beloit, Wisconsin. IIT's intercollegiate competition was held last December. The contest, sponsored by ATS, was organized by Tom Baggio.

On Thursday, February 20 an exhibition round was held at 12:00 noon in HUM. The exhibition tournament featured the student All-Star team pitted against a team from faculty and administration. Tom Baggio, Joe Crubetti, Rich Chylla, and John Gossage played on the student team. Cindy McDermott was also scheduled to be on the student team, but was unable to attend. Chaplain Anselm Amado, Dr. Kenneth Schug of the Chemistry department, Dr. Ben Stark of the Biology department, and James Vick of Dean Student Life played for the faculty/administration.

The tournament consisted of three games, each game comprising of two rounds with a one minute break in between. The faculty defeated the student All-Stars two games to one. Among the questions in the tournament were: "Name the three sons of Noah," and "What is the standard value for the constant g." The regionals of the competition include teams from colleges all over the Midwest. The competition is usually dominated by the team from the University of Chicago.

Campus activities

The Campus Life Committee met in the South Dining Room of the Faculty Club on Wednesday, February 5, at 5 PM. Ten people attended the meeting, but several important issues were discussed.

Reports from student organization representatives were first on the agenda. The Association of Tech Students (ATS) announced IIT participation in the Regional College Bowl Competition at Beloit College. The student teams were then announced for the spring Leadership Conference. Other events included a tutoring program with the Daniel Hale Williams Memorial Scholarship.

The Residence Hall Association (RHA) is sponsoring the Illinois Residence Hall Association Conference (IRHA) on the weekend of February 26 through March 2. Two hundred and continued on page 3

An objective overview of South Africa

After reading your verbal assault on Mr. Sabas, I felt compelled to write to you with a more objective view of the events in South Africa.

First, I agree with you wholeheartedly about the atrocities against the black majority in South Africa. Apartheid is not the best policy that the South African government could use, but it is believe me, no better a policy than most of the communist policies. It is not out of paranoia that I say this. My homeland and many other countries were taken over by Communism after World War II and, more recently, Afghanistan was engulfed by the communists. I would suggest that if the Communists must spread even through any of force is in "The Communist Manifesto." It is a basic idea among them to spread their ideals whether you like it or not. South Africa must stay Communism on the African continent.

South Africa is changing some of its policies of apartheid, but ever so slowly. (South Africa has relaxed on their stance against inter-racial marriages and condemnation of the same.) Look at the United States. A century or two ago slavery thousand South Africans in your country was a developing democracy. In a democracy, depending on the circumstances, change is slow, but this is much better than anger, with sword with sword. This is the only way Democracy stands any kind of chance to flourish because, in a violent revolts there are, nine times out of ten, powerful leaders who do not want to give up their control after the revolt and will influence the new government... continued on page 5

Sabas replies to Eddings

I was both honored and puzzled by the tongue and cheek letter the UCBS President (A.C. H. Ed.) (Fr.) wrote me concerning my supporting Mr. Pundits (sic) article on S. Africa.

I found a number of his statements quite admirable, as well as a few Mr. Eddings States: "I guess you're (Sabas) entitled to your opinions no matter how wrong they are," which though a great one, president of UCBS, to grant me this privilege? President Eddings et al., South Africa can change it remains in America's sphere of influence. What has America done so far? Sabas brings a lot of constructive engagements. I call it right? My, my, I only wish my opinions could be put forth so eloquently and with such sophistication. I suggest that you read some of Jesse Jackson's old speeches. Perhaps, you can make your colorful worded opinions rhyme (Lots of things rhyme... crap?) Let us overlook Mr. Edding use of terms such as "country" in a convulsive state of shock after he read that it called a UCBS sponsored speaker "puritanship weak." (The speaker who said that "Mozambique is a non-racist and non-racialist Marxist dictatorship!" Next he states some "hard, cold facts." "Black Africans have their own heroes kicked in. In the middle of the night, their houses invaded, their parents hailed out of bed, and their children forced to the municipal police over there." Mr. Eddings, many of the police "overthere" are actually, compromised of blacks. Oh, and please try to stay away from being so specific with your "hard, cold facts." Let us again overlook Mr. Eddings malapropism as a symptom of his (sic).

Another student replies to Eddings

Dear Mr. Eddings;

I was very disappointed that the President was one of the largest and most successful organizations on campus could get so overly emotional and unnecessarily vile! By identifying Mr. Sabas for his view on South Africa you have degraded a sizable portion of the American population and anybody who can choose to think before they act (or write) and favors a cautious and intelligible course of action when dealing with problems as complex as this one.

You have done an excellent job of highlighting the emotionally charged expressions such as Black Africans, as they were their doors kicked in, in the middle of the night, their houses invaded, their parents hated out of bed, and their children forced to the municipal police and killed by a manical police force. But you have committed the same injustice every critical article concerning the South African policy has. You have failed to recommend (sic) any course of action which would lead to a peaceful and lasting solution.

What should the United States do?

Should we immediately sever all economic and political relations with this country? This solution would do nothing to help our economy and hurt the already weakened blacks more than the power welding whites. It would also succeed in causing off a sizable portion of critical minerals and elements we need to maintain competitive in many high tech industries, and it would broadcast a message to every one of our allies and trading partners. A message of hypocrisy and deception. A signal that we have abandoned a reasonable stable ally and trading partner in favor of a "good" abstract morality. And in that it should, we sever all ties with Communist regimes that persecute Jewish, Polish, or Lithuanian refugees who are not "good" dictatorship, anyone who trades with Khomeini, and any country which has not signed the U.S. ban on any of these things. Should we listen to them? There would be practically no one left on good terms with us.

On the other hand, should we embark on a "factual" raid on Mr. Sabas's (sic) (the spirit of Senator McCarthy's) writings? I'm not sure if the 50's? Have you so quickly forgotten the lessons learnt in your Viet-Nam? We entered that was with a mission and a mission to protect the freedom of people about to be overthrown (sic) by a manical, oppressive, Communist regime. As good as our intentions were, we lost our way to the villagers. Look at where they are today?

I am sorry, Mr. Eddings, but I cannot agree with your view that South Africa's political and government is to brutality oppresses blacks. Why has the area is nothing against instead of out of South Africa? They certainly don't want to emigrate to Ethiopia, a failed and African country where millions of people are starving to death. In fact, Mr. Eddings, we have stopped shipping Ethiopia trucks to transport food from the barracks it is required to the riding masses in the street because the Ethiopian government has been tearing the trucks apart to build military vehicles? Why don't you write a letter about them, Mr. Eddings?" Mr. Eddings.

A student comments on basketball team.

I have been at IIT for six years. I've tended many games played by our sports team. There is one issue concerning our color program that must be addressed.
That issue is our basketball team.

I have had a number of friends play for IIT over the past six years. I have talked and listened to almost everyone about what each thinks is good and bad about our basketball program. What is good about the program is apparent. We have good players, who care about winning and who hate to lose. We have an Athletic Director in Dennis Hull who has directed much of this into building a competitive team. Well, that's good, now to the bad.

What's bad about our program can be summed up in one word. Topper. Mr. Topper has been at IIT for five years. In those five years he has yet to have a team break even. Each season brings new expectations for the team with promises from the "coach." Each season ends in decreasing expectations from the "coach." In the last two years, Mr. Topper even has played scalps who were his recruits. To these players to only win and over forty losses. Something must be done about these.

Players have quit, transferred or just plain disappeared from this program during Mr. Topper's reign as "coach." I thought it about a way to improve the program after talking to this year's team. I thought our team could have half-time tennis. The players pointed out that Mr. Topper would still "coach" away games. This could cut out everything the home goach taught the players. So then throw that out plus
I have a bone.

DAVE RUDOLPH

COMEDY

Thursday 2/27
at 9:00 pm
$2.00 cover

If Martin Mull would only stand up, he could be a Dave Rudolph, maybe.
If Dave Martin would only pull his act together, and start acting like the "wild and crazy guy" he talks so much about, he could be a Dave Rudolph, too, maybe.

It's possible. Of course, you'd have to see the original Dave, first.

President Martin and Mr. Mehlmanbacher both accepted full responsibility for the loss to the university, admitting that it was a major error on their part. Mr. Mehlmanbacher stated that all such projects, current or future, are supervised by his assistant as Director of Physical Resources, and that projects of this magnitude are normally approved by Mr. Martin before initiation. Dr. Martin explained that a sense of triumph had kept him from his duty of checking the final plans.

When asked whether the School of Architecture had been consulted, Dr. Martin said that it was not usual procedure to check with the architectural faculty on any building projects. He went on to elaborate that the school of architecture was split between factions supporting different views on the future direction of modern architecture and that a consensus opinion from the school was unlikely on such matters.

In response to student concerns over the monetary loss to IIT, Dr. Martin put the issue in perspective by stating that the library renovation was a $10 million dollar project paid for by private donations and through charitable donations.
The actual cost of the renovation of the canopy in the neighbor hood of $25,000 was considered.

Dr. Martin said that IIT had contracted with this architectural firm before and that the project was under a very tight schedule. Dr. Martin and Mr. Mehlmanbacher stated that the library renovation, like other recent capital projects on campus, were designed to make the campus more enjoyable for the students and staff who work here. They explained that all such projects would have Dr. Martin's approval before being undertaken.

It is my feeling that incidents like this go on without students voicing their concern, then we are not giving the administration the chance to do whatever they want to our school. We need all concerned students to get involved in ATS.

It is my opinion that the future tempered by a variety of opinions on TV.

Swim team finish first in 4

The varsity swim team competed in the Illinois area swim championships last Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Wheaton College. Although IIT had one of the smallest squads at the meet, the Hawks came away with more than their share of the glory. Of the sixteen events, IIT was able to finish first in four. The top scorer for IIT was Mike Messler who won his events. One of the three records included a Wheaton pool record in his strongest and favorite event, the 100 yard backstroke.

Junior Doug Foti captured a first place in the 1 meter diving event. Doug's total point score was also a new record. Doug narrowly missed winning the 5 meter board event, coming in second behind the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee's highly regarded Phil Voas.
