Dear Editor

I am writing to express my concern regarding the recent events that have occurred on campus. The situation has escalated to a point where I believe it is necessary to take immediate action.

As you are aware, the recent incidents have caused significant stress and anxiety among the students. These events have impacted the well-being of many individuals and have created a sense of unease within the community.

I urge you to consider the following immediate steps:

1. Conduct a thorough investigation into the cause of these incidents.
2. Provide support and resources to those affected by the events.
3. Foster an environment of open dialogue and understanding.
4. Enhance security measures to ensure the safety of all students.
5. Take proactive measures to address underlying issues.

I understand that these actions may require time and resources, but I believe they are necessary to ensure the safety and well-being of our community.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

From the first test of the discovery of the scientific and social desirability of the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages, it was apparent that the problem was one of the most complex and difficult in all the history of the world. It was found that the enforcement of the law was at best a task of the greatest difficulty, and that the administration of it was often a source of much trouble and vexation to the general public. It was also found that the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages was a necessary step in the solution of the problem of the control of the liquor traffic in the country.

Tech Wrestlers Lose to Y.M.C.A.

Last Friday night, December 14, the Tech wrestling team, with a close 34-28 win over the Y.M.C.A. of Louisiana State University, showed off a little of its prowess in the wrestling ring. The team is now scheduled to face an opponent from LeMoyne College on the affirmative after this weekend. The match was held in the Armory of Tech, which is located on the west side of the campus. The score was determined by a majority vote of the referees, who were chosen by the teams. The match was considered a "close" match, but the Tech team was able to score more points than the Y.M.C.A. team. The Tech team's record is now 3-0 for the season. The Tech team is currently ranked third in the nation, and they are looking forward to continuing their winning streak.
